

News Release

Contact: Dan Horkey, President
Phone: 360-895-1976
E-mail: gtopi@live.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Time PST, Date

Photos Courtesy of GTOPI and Artist Mark Dalton

PROSTHETIC ART INNOVATOR TO DISPLAY AT WIA 75TH JURIED EXHIBITION

Port Orchard entrepreneur Dan Horkey announces that his patent-pending tattoo art for orthopedic braces and prosthetic limbs will be on display as part of Wounded in Action: An Art Exhibition of Orthopaedic Advancements. The exhibition, a special program at the American Academy Orthopaedic Surgeons (AAOS) 2010 Annual National Meeting in New Orleans, March 9-13, celebrates those who have had orthopaedic injuries as a result of serving the USA in war.

Horkey, who created a new category for the WIA exhibition called “Innovations in Prosthetic Art”, is thrilled to be able to attend the exhibition. “Organizers hope that it will travel to other venues around the US, including Walter Reed Hospital,” says Horkey, “so I may have to say goodbye to some of my prize pieces of prosthetic tattoo art for a year, but the opportunity to display my art at Wounded in Action is just too good to pass up.”

Bios of Dan Horkey and his artist, Mark Dalton, will be included in a Coffee Table Book published by Wounded in Action. To learn about GTOPI, the upcoming 75th WIA Juried Exhibition, and the AAOS follow these links: <http://gtopi.com/prostheticart.aspx>, <http://www.woundedinactionart.org/> and http://www.aaos.org/aaos\_web/AAOSAds/Anmeet/2010\_AM\_Vid\_2.html.

---

About GTOPI – GTOPI offers artwork and design for prosthetics. Using patent-pending methods, GTOPI applies tattoos, artwork, custom color designs to orthopedic braces and prosthetic limbs. GTOPI also offers personalized cosmetic systems to the Orthotic and Prosthetic industry. The company provides its services through the VA Puget Sound Veterans Hospital in Seattle and Walter Reed Army Medical Center (WRAMC) in Washington, D.C. For more information call 360-895-1976 or E-mail: gtopi@live.com.

-End-